SUGARLOVE WEDDINGS

with Love

SugarLove are the best photographers in Australia.

Not only do they blend into the day like family but the extent of images they capture at your event is mind blowing. One minute you won't notice them and the next they appear with timely direction to ensure a valuable image is not missed. Having one photographer from SugarLove on your day is the equivalent of multiple crew elsewhere.

Their experience is unmatched and their warmth & personality are things all of our guests have commented on. We have engaged SugarLove for the most important events in our lives and will continue to for many years to come.

WE BELIEVE IN A THING CALLED Love

SugarLove was established over coffee with three spoonfuls of sugar in the late 1990's by photographer Bradley Patrick and wife Leigh Taylor.

Today Bradley and Leigh still love sugar and have been sharing their love with wedding clients since 2003. Their own wedding, in 2001 was photographed beautifully by one of SugarLove's Senior Photographers.

The SugarLove family includes four photographers, all of whom have photographed weddings for between ten to fifteen years.

We invite you to explore the world of SugarLove. We love what we do and have always believed that choosing your photographer is the second most important decision you make when you are getting married (apart from choosing each other of course).

An absolute delight... naturally brilliant... effortlessly creative...exceeded our high expectations both professionally and creatively.

The greatest joy, other than the actual day, was receiving our stunning photographs from Sugarlove. One of the best decisions we made.

On a day when you're aspirations are at their peak, you will not be disappointed... Look no further.

Glen & Amee

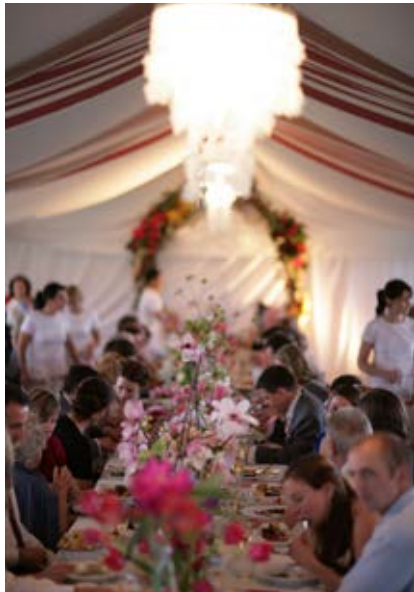

We didn't deliberate at all when choosing a photographer - Sugarlove's reputation was flawless and after meeting with (Principal Photographer) Bradley I knew the photos would come up exactly as I wanted them. Unlike some other photography companies, Sugarlove was able to tailor a package and terms that were suited to our needs.

On the day, Bradley was calm and unobtrusive but really engaged in the event - and he wasn't shy about risking life and camera for a great shot! The photos have elicited incredible complements from friends and strangers alike, but the beauty, light and sense of moment in the photos warrant every one. I'm so happy with the photos and I'm sure I will love them just as I do my new husband - for many, many years to come.

Thank you so much SugarLove for the most amazing photo's one could ever ask for.
You were an absolute pleasure to work with and we are blown away with how all the photos have turned out.
I have spent hours and hours looking over them again and again. Our photographer was an excellent operator on the day and the amount of photos she captured was unbelievable - and all amazing. They hit the brief right on the head, big thanks again.

Your service has been EXCEPTIONAL! Right from the first point of contact, I have experienced nothing less than the best.

Everything was picture perfect. The service was so personalised, and this made Ben and I feel so relaxed in front of the camera... With every capture, I knew it would be flawless, especially after receiving our pre-wedding pictures which told such a beautiful tale. I had nothing but absolute confidence on our wedding day.

You have always gone the extra mile and understood our every need. You have even accommodated us in ways that I am sure no one else would have. You are such a delight to deal with and your warmth is so inspiring.

Overall, I would most definitely recommend SugarLove Weddings to anyone who loves this creative style of capturing. You will not be disappointed!
